

Camera Club Again Offers Popular Class for Beginner and Intermediate Photographers

David Dearing is once again offering this two-session class which covers the basics of photography: composition, lighting, post processing, and sharing, among other topics. David will be assisted by Peter Battin, Mark Rabinowich, and Joel Goldstein. The first class will be January 27 at 1:30 in the Photo classroom of Clubhouse 4.

The class provides some hands-on learning. It will include cell phone photography. Students will be taught how to use their manuals and camera menus. Over the weekend students will take some pictures and bring them in on January 30 at 1:30 for discussion. The instructional PowerPoint will be available to participants.

David's interest in photography spans over fifty years. In 2006 when he moved from New York to Laguna Woods he was able to pursue both of his loves, teaching, and photography. David has had many pictures published in the Globe and on Village TV for theater slide shows. In 2015 David created The Baker's Half Dozen and has taught it several times since then. The class provides an opportunity to share his photos and his knowledge.

Register by January 23 by writing to cameraclub@cameraclublvw.org with January 27 Class on the Subject Line. Club members are free; others are asked for a $5 donation.
